Michelle Miller on film:

Trembling Before G-d is a documentary about the hidden lives of gay and lesbian Orthodox and Hasidic Jews. Alto Michelle Miller can be seen in this film. A two week (hopefully longer!) engagement begins October 24, 2001, at the Film Forum (Houston St., west of 6th Ave). For more info: www.TremblingBeforeG-d.com, or www.FILMFORUM.com.

Bob Schartoff's new venture:

I have begun a new job with the real estate firm of Ashforth Warburg Associates, (212) 327-9600, located at 795 Broadway (between 10th and 11th Street). I would like everyone in the Oratorio Society of New York to know that if they need assistance in purchasing or selling an apartment in Manhattan, I'm at their beckon call. Thanks.

The following e-mail was addressed to the webmaster, but is for all:

Dear members of the Oratorio Society,

I used to sing with the Oratorio Society during my year as exchange student at the New School for Social Research (1996/97). Getting accepted to this great chorus, meeting the other chorus members and participating at the concerts at Carnegie Hall I regard as one of the best experiences and possibilities of my life. The chorus contributed to making my exchange year a blooming one and gave me an insight into the American spirit (find open doors, get opportunities, work hard, celebrate successes).

After the horrible events of last week, I want to express my deepest compassion to those of you who have suffered losses of friends and family members. Watching the news closely I am extremely impressed how New York copes with this, how New Yorkers close lines and try to help each other.

I wish you all the strength you need!

Members,

If you have anything that you'd like to announce here, like performances outside of OSNY in which you're involved, life events (weddings, babies), business announcements, etc., please send a note to Liz Simpson at webmaster@oratoriosocietyofny.org, or see her at rehearsal.
